

Are you part of a family that speaks several languages?

Are you raising your children to speak a language other than English?

Waltham Forest Bilingual Group is a small voluntary group set up by parents who wanted to get together to share experiences of raising children bilingually and support each other.

Talk to other parents in multilingual families while your children play.

From 3.30pm – 5.30pm at The Limes Children's and Community Centre, Somers Road, Walthamstow (just off the market, corner of Palmerston Road). The venue is fully accessible. All are welcome, and it is free. No need to call ahead, just come along.

The Limes is a wonderful centre with a great outdoor equipment in the garden, a ball pond and there are always craft activities for the children to do. At the drop in sessions

WFBG members can borrow books, pick up free donated children's books and other resources in various languages and talk to more experienced parents about any concerns or questions you may have.

7th January 2012

4th Feb 2012

3rd March 2012

Workshops for parents (1st October and 5th November)

Workshops will use light hearted exercises, discussion, and question and answer sessions to give a basic introduction to what the group members have learnt about what works for and in different bilingual families. This event will be run by parents for parents – not by professionals. We won't have all the answers - but we will know how it feels.
